12- Hour Runners

All runners will ascend to upper aid station via purgatory.

Upon arriving at the station, each runner will dive their hand into a bucket and pull out a colored ball.

The color of the ball indicates which loop you will now run.

Upon completion of that loop, you will select another ball and continue this process until events end.

All runners must descend to lower lot via Purgatory prior to the 12-hour cutoff in order for all miles run to count.

Should you remove a black ball from the bucket, you will receive special instructions. These instructions will result in either some kind of time penalty, or an opportunity to earn an over ride ticket. Over ride tickets can be used to avoid running your selected loop for a loop of your choice.
